NEWTON, N.J. -- “My New Year’s resolution is to win the lottery and get out of debt!” Is this your New Year’s resolution? Realistically, the odds are about 14 million to 1 that this New Year’s resolution will actually come true. On the other hand, if your New Year’s resolution is, “to get educated on how to improve my finances and finally feel secure in my financial well being,” the odds improve dramatically that your resolution will indeed bring you success.

Most of us haven’t learn how to navigate the complicated waters of financial security, either from our upbringing or in school, but it’s not as complicated as we’ve been led to believe and it’s never too late to learn. Now that the holidays are behind us and we hunker down for our winter introspection, what better time to begin our journey toward financial well being? The time is NOW, and the best way to do that is through educated action.

On Jan. 11th, from 5-6 p.m., The Tree of Health Center is offering a free financial wellness workshop to help you Put a Smile in your Finances. This workshop is led by Terri and Mark Trapp, practicing business owners here in Sussex County for over 20 years. Their goal is to shine a light on all of your options, educate you on programs and services that can help you, and to liberate you once and for all from the chains of financial bondage.

The team at The Tree of Health Center believes that in order for us to thrive, we must be balanced all the way around, including financially. Terri & Mark help to bring the financial part of our lives into much needed balance so we can all thrive, individually and as a community. They offer proven financial tools with a new approach: to empower, to educate and to enrich our lives with financial understanding and skills.

Through advanced degrees in finance, education, business and psychology, Terri & Mark are able to offer an easy mix of gentle but truthful examination and a practical individually customized road map that’s easy to follow, one step at a time, as you are rewarded with the harvest of your dedication to financial freedom.

Terri & Mark Trapp are fully licensed and experienced in helping thousands of families and businesses accomplish their goals. Join us on January 11th so you, too, can be one of the many smiling along the road to financial freedom.
