NEWTON, N.J. -- The efficiency of distant healing is that the "person, place or thing" does not have to be in the same room or space as the practitioner giving the healing. The Tree of Health Center will be offering a three-day weekend training on May 9th through the 11th for Reiki II Certification in "Distant Healing".

Rebecca Grabowski, an oncology nurse, will be taking the next step to Reiki Mastery by attending the Reiki II Certification Training. Grabowski, who took Reiki I with Reiki Master and Teacher Linda Mitchell, shared her first learning experience with Linda and Reiki, "Linda combines practical advice and spiritual insights on how Reiki can be used for both self-healing or in service to others. Linda also shared her expertise on how to develop a business in the holistic healing arts. The learning materials provided are a valuable resource which I continue to refer to. Linda presents unique materials to her training when compared to friends who have taken other Reiki trainings. After a long work week, I left the three day weekend course feeling refreshed and excited to begin my Reiki practice."

This class is the second step in Reiki Healing Mastery. It combines a lecture on a deeper understanding and awareness of distant healing, spirituality, meridians, auras and a weekend of clinical practicum for distant healing and self-care. The Reiki II Certification Training will be Friday from 6-9 p.m., Saturday 9-3 p.m. and Sunday from 9 - 1 p.m.

Reiki clears energy blockages in the body and facilitates the body's natural healing processes. It is used to support healing in acute and chronic conditions, ease mental distress and promote emotional well-being.

A prerequisite to Reiki II is Reiki I. Reiki I will be offered on May 30th to June 1st. The cost of the Reiki II Certification Training is $250.00; while Reiki I Certification Training is $175.00. Space is limited to 6 students per class.
